Pouf

James Bond, alias Agent 007 with a license to kill ... either he relaxes or is he always on the move to solve with his talent...complicated plots of the rich and powerful masters of evil? Being such a well refined spying secret agent he would show determination even when relaxing. A mindful relax, I would suggest! I have always noticed that poufs destined for a quick break are generally light,weight-wise... not the best of feelings! If you stumble on them, they would knock themselves down with a weird sound. Not these ones! They come with a heavy, genuine, precious marble base. I have chosen to make the object physically relevant. Moving them might require an effort, so that ladies in their stilettos would need a gentleman's help!

Under-coat box structure is made of multilayers poplar plywood of 10 mm width, stuffed with foam rubber of 4 and 5 cm width, then leather coated. Bases are of solid marble measuring 8 cm in width, 30x30 cm.
